

Hope for the Helpless

Self-help Goat Program

Helping hundreds of disadvantaged people.

Some of the happy goat recipients

Goats often produce twins and thrive in any conditions — eating grass and vegetable waste. Goats can give as much as four quarts of milk a day. Goat's milk is high in protein which is needed by small children and malnourished people. Fresh goat milk is smooth and creamy, it makes tasty cheese-cakes for marketing to support a family. Your special gift of a goat will make a big difference in the lives of the poor and distressed families.

“Your gift of a goat gave me the desire to live. Now I feel I am a valuable member of my community.”

For $45.00 you can provide a goat to help a needy family in Bangladesh.

The program has assisted hundreds of disadvantaged people to come out of financial bondage and spiritual bankruptcy.
